**** END OF DOCUMENT ****

Merchant: InfiniG, Inc. (USA)

The following terms apply to Your use of the Application.

Application Description: Neutral Host as-a-Service (NHaaS) by Merchant, known as the Application in the Agreement, is an annual subscription consisting of (a) secure connections to one or more participating Mobile Network Operators (MNOs) over Your private wireless network, thus enabling subscribers of those MNOs to receive mobile service within the coverage area of such network; and (b) on-going operation, monitoring and management of such secure connections during a paid and active subscription term.

Terms of Use: The quality and performance of the Application relies on the availability of the local network and Internet connection. In order to maintain such quality and performance, You must (a) maintain an Internet connection as required to meet the needs of the Application; (b) avoid making changes to the local network (LAN) infrastructure, firewalls or other network components that could impact Your private wireless network's ability to connect to the Application; (c) provide Merchant or its assignee access rights to monitor the network programmatically through API connections from Your private wireless network; and (d) grant Merchant or its assignee the right to update or upgrade the Application for regular maintenance, quality, performance, security or make other changes to the Application.

Regulatory Restrictions: The Application by nature carries traffic on behalf of Mobile Network Operators, who are in turn bound by regulations of the United States Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regarding the safety and well-being of the general public, including, but not limited to, delivering 911 calls and public service announcements. In order to comply with these regulations, certain network parameters, including the physical coordinates of the radios, are captured and memorialized in a document called the Customer Information Questionnaire (CIQ) and validated by Merchant before turning on the Application. Once the CIQ is validated, You agree to not change, or enable others to change, such configuration parameters without Merchant's prior written approval. You acknowledge and agree that such changes without such Merchant approval and re-validation will be deemed a material breach of this Agreement and may result in FCC fines and/or other penalties, and You agree to indemnify Merchant with respect to any such fines and/or other penalties.
